

Violence can take many forms: physical, bullying, exclusion, and more. How can we begin to practice seeking peace in order to combat the violence narratives in my community?

