

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT - BRAINSTORMING STAGE

Jot down your ideas for community engagement work as you discuss. These are not worksheet questions, just prompts to spur your thinking.

What are some material needs you have seen in our own community, or the community of your sponsored child?

What are issues of material need or economic sustainability that might tie to our school? What businesses does our school partner with in our community?

Are there businesses or organizations doing "good business" in our community that we could partner with in some effort? (This might also include churches, clinics, charities, food shelves, schools, indigenous organizations, government, etc.)

Could the savings and credit association or microfinancing models point us in a direction that could meet material needs somewhere?

STAGE 2 - DESIGNING A DRIVING QUESTION

In your groups, come up with a driving question that could propel our community engagement project.

Driving questions should be:

- Open ended (not yes or no)
- Complex or debatable (no obviously correct answers)
- Interesting and deep enough to work on for a while!
