ISSUE CARDS

Abuse Some children face abuse, like being harassed or hit. This happens to both boys and girls and often takes place in private, so others don't know it is happening. Children are not comfortable sharing about it, and the abuse can continue.	Bullying Some children face a lot of bullying by their peers. In schools, in neighborhoods, and online, children are put through emotional and physical abuse based on their appearance, economic class, disability, or many other reasons.	Families Treat Boys Better Than Girls In some homes, boys are treated better than girls. Girls are asked to do all the chores at home and limit their own educational goals. Girls are also not given the same opportunities for sports or play.
Child Participation Children have the freedom to express their opinions and to have a say in matters that affect their life. This right is difficult to attain as children are not always encouraged to speak up or listened to by adults.	Parents and Guardians Since parents/guardians give children an identity, protect them, feed them, and enable them to receive education, being able to have a parent/guardian a child's most important right. However, there are some who abuse or neglect their children.	Drinking and Driving Drinking and driving puts many lives at risk. After just two alcoholic drinks, the chance of getting in an accident doubles.

Road Rage Sometimes drivers get angry with other people on the road. Drivers get angry when they jump the signal, change lanes, go fast, go slow and other reasons. Drivers expect the best behavior from everyone but themselves.	Children Losing Interest in Education Some children find school boring. They would rather roam around in their neighborhood or hang out with friends than go to school.	Mobile Danger Some parents buy mobile phones for their children at an early age. This can be a problem because some adults take advantage of children online. Having a mobile phone can also lead to bullying online, or exposure to inappropriate material.
Comparing One Another Children compare what their parents can afford buy to them with what other parents buy for their children. Some parents compare children to others and tell them to be like those “good children.”	Loneliness This generation is one of loneliest generations in history. Young people have become more isolated, and don’t know where to connect in relationship. This can lead to depression, isolation, and unhappiness.	Child Lacks Home Support Some children do not have parents or guardians who nurture or support them. This makes it difficult for these children to have hobbies or interests (like doing well in school, playing on a team sport, or learning an instrument).
