

11.3.B

Conflict Transformation Skit

Directions: As a team, apply our collaboration skills to create a skit that models transformative change. Come back to our definition of conflict. It can have positive or negative results. It's how we respond to the situation that is important.

Step One: Brainstorm a few ideas before deciding. Your skit must reach the transformative change level. Describe/show the conflict:

What is a potential negative response?

Describe/show the process of transforming relationships, interests, needs, patterns, or behavior or social contexts to bring about peace.

Skit Outline:

How does your skit model conflict transformation? How does it model peacemaking strategies?